Oana Nistor

Oana Nistor is an an Early Childhood Educator, Montessori teacher and storyteller. She has been working in the ECE field for over 20 years. She is currently teaching the Early Childhood Education program at Ridge Meadows College in Maple Ridge. She is passionate about children and passionate about stories and their teaching power. Oana is fascinated by the power of stories and more importantly the benefits and the lessons we can learn from them.

“Empathy is a choice” – Brené Brown

When we choose to empathize with somebody, we make a vulnerable choice, because we have to connect with something in ourselves that knows that feeling. When we choose to empathize with the children we work with, we choose to help them communicate the feelings they are feeling but cannot name.

Puppets can help us by supporting our children in expressing feelings that otherwise might be kept suppressed. Puppets can put a smile on a child’s face. Puppets help adults become silly, be a child again, and explore the unknown.
